DRY HOUSEN VS. DAMP HOUSES.

The importance of selecting dry locations for a residence is very aptly illustrated in the following extract from an address by Professor R. C. Kedzie, before the Michigan Tile Makers' convention:

Two brothers in Vermont, of strong and vigorous stock, and giving equal promise of a long and active life, married wives corresponding in promise of future activity. They had chosen the healthiest of callings-farming. One of the brothers built his house in an open and sunny spot where the soil and subsoil were dry; shade trees and embowering plants had a hard time of it, but the cellar was dry enough for a powder magazine. The house in all its parts was free from every trace or dampness and mold; there was a crisp and elastic feel in the air of the dwelling; the farmer and all his family had that vigorous elasticity that reminds one of the spring and strength of steel; health and sprightly vigor were the rule, and sickness the rare exception. The farmer and his wife, though past threescore, have yet the look and vigor of middle life.

The other brother built his house in a beautiful shady nook, where the trees seemed to stretch their protecting arms in benediction over the modest home. Springs fed by barns; his yard was always green, even in driest time, for the life blood of the hills seemed to burst ways wet, the cellar never dry, the walls of the room of en had a clamthe closets, and the bread moulded in the pantry. For a time, their vigor enabled them to bear up against these depressing influences; children were born of apparent vigor and promise, but these, one by one, passed away under the touch of diphtheria, croup and pneumonia; the mother went into a decline, and lives, but is tortured and crippled paid to middlemen. by rheumatism.

A CHEAP FILTER.

Very many families desire some inexpensive device for filtering rain and other waters to be used for cooking and table use. A cheap and very efficient filter may be made by using a spirit or wine cask, placing it on end, with the head removed, and having a faucet at the bottom to draw off the clear water. To fit it for a filter, take the removed top head of the cast, and with a small bit bore holes all over it, then place four clean bricks or blocks of wood on the bottom, and on these rest the perforated top. Now fill upon it about four inches of charcoal chopped into small bits the size of peas, and over this place a laver of clean sand, six inches deep. Impure water poured into the cask on top of the sand, will become pieces. clear and sparkling after a little while, or as soon as all fine particles are worked out of the charcoal and sand. This filter will not need renewing oftener than once in two or three months.

Bad habits are small at the beginning, but they grow to enormous size. It is as difficult to destroy them when fully grown, as it is easy to kill them when "in the egg." A little giving way to a bad temper may end in murder. Little fits of idleness may lead to dissolute habits. How big these little sins may grow we dare not even think. The best way then is to take hold of them, put a check on them while they are young, ask God to give us His grace to overcome them, before they take possession of us, and destroy us. The longer we put off trying to check these evils in our hearts, the harder shall we find it to be. So let us go to work at once, and try to overcome them while they are small, not wait until they are fully grown, when we shall more than likely be overcome by them.

TEA CAKE .- One cup of sugar one tablespoonful of butter; three eggs; beat well together; then add a cup of sweet milk (you may use part water,) and a quart of sifted flour, into which you have mixed a spoonful of eream of tartar, and one-half teaspoonful of soda; bake in a quick oven. It is improved by sprinkling sugar over the top (before baking.) This will make two cakes, which are the best when eaten warm.

CORN OYSTERS -Six ears of sweet corn (those which are not too old;) with a sharp knife split each row of corn in the center of the kernal length wise; scrape out the THE COMING PRESIDENT

A FEW WORDS FROM CAPT. R. W. BONNER, A WELL-KNOWN CITIZEN OF MACON.

In August, 1881, nearly three years ago, my son, who was at that time living at Clinton, Ga., came over to see me with the sad intelligence that his wife was in the last stages of consumption and that her physician had pronounced her case, hopeless. I went immediately over, and I felt that nothing could be done. She was coughing and spitting incessantly, and at times would went immediately over, and I felt that nothing could be done. She was coughing and spitting incessantly, and at times would discharge from her lungs a large quantity of pus or matter—could not sleep or retain anything on her stomach, and was, in fact, in the last stages of the discase. This was about the time you began to advertise Brewer's Lung Restorer, and as my son expressed a desire to give it to his wife, two or three bottles were procured and with scarcely a vestige of hope we commenced giving it to her in small doses, gradually increasing the quantity until the prescribed dose was reached. She began to improve after a few doses and continued to do so daily, until she was finally restored to life and health, and is to day perhaps in better health than ever before. She is subject to colds, but a few swallows of Brewer's Lung Restorer (which she is never without) refleves her immediately. I consider her restoration to perfect health a miracle, for which she is indebted to Brewer's Lung Restorer. My son is almost a monomaniac on the subject of Brewer's Lung Restorer and never lets an opportunity pass where he thinks such a medicine would be required, that he does not speak of it in most glowing terms. Not long since a Northern gentleman on his way to Florida heard of this cure and was induced by my son to give it to his invalid wife, and she was cured as if by magic."

Mr. Charles Eden, of Trinidad, Colorado,

Mr. Charles Eden, of Trinidad, Colorado, says: Seeing certificates of the wonderful cures made by Brewer's Lung Restorer, I was induced to try it on my little son, who was troubled with lung or throat affection, was troubled with lung or threat affection, pronounced by one physician, consumption. It acted wonderfully on him, and by the time he had taken one bottle of it the cough disappeared. I am new on a vist to my parents in Georgia, but will return in a few days to my home and will certainly take some of the Lung Restorer with me.
